Failure in New York.

NEW YORK, May 8,-The failure of WATTS, CRANE & Co., produces some depression and bear speculators are in the ascendency. The loss by this failure is widely distributed, falling principally on banks and Southern firms. The suspension is severe on Jones & Co., in which it is stated Crane was a special partner, but this feature is not regarded as important.

A NEW BUILDING MATERIAL. During the late var, the Catholic Church in this city was wanton-y burned by unrestrained soldiers. The congre-gation, quite numerous and increasing, erected a slain wooden structure which now serves for a plain wooden structure which now serves for a place of worship. But looking to the future growth of Jacksonville, and feering the necessity of a larger and more substantial edifice, Bishop Veiot projected a stone church, which will be an ornament to the city. Already several cargoes of Coquina rock have arrived from St. Augustine, and the work will progress as rapidly as the means of the church will permit. Coquina can be delivered of our city wharf at eighteen dollars a square, ten feet by ten.—Jacksonville Union.

Storage of Petroleum. Editor Daily Neros:

The new Ordinance regarding the storage of petroleum, which you regard with such strong adwhile he was in our city. It was written by one of miration in your issue of yesterday, should be entriled an "Ordinance to injure the Wholesale Trade of Charleston." The Committee have prepared a Bill more sweeping in its restrictions than has been enacted in any other wholesale mart in the whole country. They have, apparently, only viewed one side of the question, and summoned before them only such persons as would testify in accordance with their precon cived opinions, thus furnishing grounds for the belief that from the commencement of the partial investigation, the result was a foregone conclusion-although so entire a prohibition of the wholesale trade was hardly to be expected. This ordinance provides that petroleum and its products shall not be stored south of Line street, in quantities of over one barrel, and that for only one day-thus necessitating the building or hiring of warehouses to specially store an article which is now of as common sale and traffic as turpontine or rosin, both of which products burn as readily as petroleum, if an especial effort is made to ignite them. We deny in total that kerosene or petroleum, refined to the fire test of 110 degrees, is exceptionally dangerous; and a recent United States Law ("Amended Revonne est, whose leading objects can only be subserved | Law, March 1, 1867,") which we annex, provides, by dividing the votes of the South. In other viz:

SEC. 29. And be it further enacted. That no person shall mix for sale nabhta and illuminating oils, or shall knowingly sell, or keep for sale, or offer for sa'e such mixture, or shall sell or offer offer for sa'e such mixture, or sual sen or other for sale oil made from petroleum for illuminating purposes, inflammable at less emperature or fire test than 110 degrees Fabre, their, and any person so doing shall be held to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof by indictanent or presentment in any court of the United States having competent jurisdiction, shall be put isshed by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500. and by imprisonment for a term of not less than six months nor more than three years. The Ordinance in question was, undoubtedly, framed, not for the best interests af the merchants of Charleston, but to satisfy an ignorant prejudicexisting in the minds of the members of the Board of Underwriters, who were chiefly instrumental in concecting a Bill which out-Herod's Herop in its sweeping restrictions. So far as our knowledge extends, no person interested in the purchase, sale, or storage of petroleu n was summoned before the Committee, and no opportunit was afforded for rebutting testimony-the Ordinance being based upon exparle evidence, the Committee quietly ignoring the old axiom of there being two sides to every question. The jobbin trade in petro cum must now be abandoned, and Savannah, Baltimore, and other wholesale marts will reap the profits of a business which is dail; increasing in magnitude, and now, as an article of export, ranks third in value, while the home con sumption is almost universal. The Committee were not, perhaps, aware that the rates of one firm in the city averaged over two hundred barrels per month during the past winter, all of which was shipped to the interior of this State and Georgia, besides selling in fifty barrel lots in bond for export; a trade that this ordinance effectually

"stamps out." Now, we submit, Mr. Editor, whether the large and increasing trade should be so summarily crushed, without affording the parties pecuniarily interested even a hearing. It may be that the nterests of the Insurance Companies are paramount to those of our own citizens, and that the large profits accruing from the present high rates of insurance should be seenred, beyond a doubt, to these companies, (mostly located North) rather than that the jobbing trade of our city should be fost red and developed.

We are, and have been prepared to prove that this Petroleum Ordinance is too stringent, not only hampering trade, it effectually and completely destroys it, and is of that class of sumptuary laws. which wise and prudent legislators only enact afough an I careful investigation. MERCHANTS.

Doring the past week we made many inquiris During the past week we made many inquirise of our farming friends from various portions of the ounty, and of several gentlemen from the counties below, and are happy to chronicle a general improvement in the condition of their farms since the rains have abated. As a general thing the freedmen are applying themselves to their crops, with as good will and determination as can be expected. Should favorable seasons assist the energatic efforts of our people the present year, our getic efforts of our people the pre-ent year, our planting community will be on their feet for future operations.—Ocala Banner.
